Detailed itinerary

Day 1 Meeting in Abashiri

We meet at 6:00pm (18:00hrs) at our hotel in Abashiri near the train station. After a tour briefing and introduction we take a stroll through the city and enjoy a welcome dinner in town. Abashiri is the largest city on the east coast of Hokkaido and is famous for the winter attraction ryuhyo, the huge ice that has drifted down from the Amur River. If you are arriving at Abashiri early, we recommend you visit the Okhotsk Ryuhyo Museum, Hokkaido Museum of Northern Peoples or Abashiri Prison Museum. All these attractions are accessible by bus from the hotel.

Day 2 Abashiri - Kussharoko

After a bike fitting and briefing this morning, we head south from Abashiri to a beautiful caldera lake. The ride takes us via Bihoro Pass, which looks over the lake and surrounding mountains. At the top of the pass we have lunch at a rest house, it is then a pleasant ride downhill to the shore of Lake Kussharo-Ko. Lake Kussharo-Ko is the second largest lake in Hokkaido, and one of three lakes in the Akan National Park. The area is well known for its abundant hot springs, a result of the volcanic activity in the area. We have a brief stop at sunayu, a popular foot spa site on the shores of Lake Kussharo-Ko. Tonight's accommodation is located on the lakeside of Kussharo-Ko.

Cycling distance - 85km / Altitude gain - 688m

Day 3 Kussharoko - Rausu

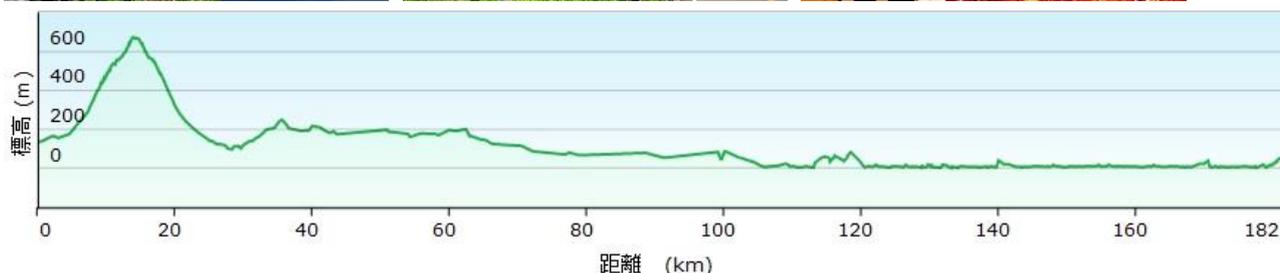

This morning we continue cycling along Lake Kussharo-Ko, passing the active volcano Iozan (or "Sulphur Mountain"), which erupted about 600 years ago but is still steaming and reeking of sulphur. After a gradual but long uphill ride we reach the lookout above Lake Mashu-Ko where the view is worth the effort. Lake Mashu-Ko, nestled in a deep caldera surrounded by high cliffs, is an amazing emerald blue colour due to its very high water clarity. It is believed the high cliffs prevent human activity on the lake which helps protect the water quality. A fine mist covers the lake itself for most of the time but if we are lucky we may catch a glimpse of the emerald blue. The rest of today's cycling is flatter and through the Nakashibetsu farming area - one of Japan's most productive dairy regions. We continue to the Rausu area on Shiretoko peninsula. This afternoon, we have an option to ride a further 24km each way to the secluded Aidomari onsen. We will also cycle on the quiet coastal road into the Shiretoko National Park, passing by many fishermen's sheds, waterfalls and possibly sight some wild Shika deer on the way.

If you wish to explore more onsen in the national park, we recommend you take a side trip to Iwaobetsu Onsen. The rock pools set in the beautiful native forest are a popular sight for local hikers. Utoro provides a great stop for lunch and visiting the information centre, a great place to learn about the wildlife and the area's ecological significance. Tonight, we are back in Abashiri, staying at a lakeside inn this time, where awaits you with an outdoor onsen with superb lake views.

After Saroma we bypass the town of Monbetsu and continue our journey north on the Okhotsk Line to Hinode Misaki. Booking Japanese domestic flights via foreign travel agents can be very expensive. You can avoid this by purchasing air tickets online yourself. There are All Nippon Airways (ANA), Japan Airlines (JAL), AirDo, and Skymark, and all are offering good services and English websites. Please be aware that in general online fares become available only two months prior to departure.

You will be also pleased to hear that there are excellent “airpass” discounts with oneWorld and Star Alliance, only available to foreign visitors. If you are travelling to Japan on an oneWorld carrier you are eligible for JAL’s Yokoso Fare, and ANA has the similar discount scheme with Star Alliance. For more details please check the below links. To reserve the airpass you will have to contact your nearest office of JAL or ANA by phone.
